- Mr. Prabhat Kumar Tiwari, Head-Sales & Marketing

Jaypee India Ltd.

Everyone is very excited. We are getting to see lot more new companies, products and competitors which were not there earlier. For us Excon is not a method of selling. For us it is more a method of grand promotion and marketing in a broader sense. Every time we participate, we try and bring something new; there is no point in showing same repetitive equipment every time.

- Mr. Aditya Mehta, Director

LiuGong India

Excon has been creating awareness about the Construction Equipment market for more than a decade now. It brings awareness about the latest generations of products coming up and about changes are required to be made for specific projects of the customers. It is very helpful for the executing authorities, projects development authorities, consulting and advisory authorities who look at the detailing of the project. This event is a very good platform for LiuGong to help it realize its vision of being a global leader.

- Mr. Sunil Sapru, President

Masa India

Our main focus at the show is to promote the importance of eco-friendly and safe manufacturing processes. There is a general perception that safe and green construction practices are costly. But, this is not true. In fact it is the other way round. Safe and eco- friendly construction practices prove economical in the long run and this is the message that we are conveying to our visitors at the show.

- Mr. Abraj Vettuparampil, Managing Director

Nawa Engineers & Consultants (P) Ltd.

The response of the visitors to our stall reaffirms the fact that the need of the hour for our machine is huge and therefore we feel that our excon outing will convert into a great success.

- Mr. G.N. Raju, Managing Director

The focus of our display is to showcase our mobiles. We are very keen on this display because we feel that these will become the mainstay for 2012-13. The response has been great. The visitors that we have received till now are the visitors who are interested in purchasing something from this specific segment. We have not received any general customers till now. People, who have requirement for crushing and screening come directly to our stall.
